SUBJECT

D & D services license possession limit and financial assurance requirement.

SUMMARY

Since the licensee doesn't possess any radioactive material generated at the client contaminated site, there is no need to state the possession limit on the license and no financial assurance is required for the D & D services. To avoid the financial assurance for other services, such as instrument calibration, leak test, etc., the licensee agreed to the possession limit of 10 mCi for each radionuclide used, which is based on the most conservative limit stated in 10 CFR 30.35.
