General Comment

Recently, three individuals presented a pro hormesis proposal to the NRC. It turns out that they are all making money from radiation inside the nuclear industry. It is in their economic self interest to promote the use of radiation and to heighten public exposure to radiation, in all ways possible. The hormesis theory aligns with their desire to make more money, by being able to expose more people to their product, which makes them A LOT OF MONEY. These three individuals are basing part of their argument on this pro hormesis SARI 64 page Powerpoint presentation, which tries to claim that the hormesis theory is valid. This article disproves the hormesis theory in many ways, and debunks the deceptive claims being made by the SARI document and these three individuals.

SARI Wants NRC To Raise Civilian Radiation Limits To 500% More Than Radiation Workers Are Limited To, Using Quack Hormesis Theory, Via Mark Miller, Ed Calabrese, Carol Marcus
