This work will improve understanding of the behavior of dense sands and sandy material under multi-dimensional loading through appropriate laboratory investigations. This work will then develop one or more multi-dimensional dense sand constitutive models to be used in more accurate soil-structure interaction of potential seismic deformations in soils at nuclear power plants sites that are subjected to seismic loading | UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS | $100,000.00 | NRCHQ12C040117 | | 41544081 |
