

Airgas, Inc is carrying out a restructuring of its operating companies. Currently, Airgas, Inc. is the owner and parent company of Airgas Specialty Gases, Inc., a Texas corporation (“ASG”) who holds an NRC license number XMAT427, for exporting :2H2, DEUTERIUM GAS, ISOTOPE OF HYDROGEN to CHINA. Airgas, Inc. also owns Airgas USA, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“Airgas USA”). Effective April 1, 2016, Airgas, Inc. will merge Airgas Specialty Gases, Inc., into Airgas USA LLC. Airgas, Inc. is and will remain the sole member (owner) of Airgas USA LLC.

When the restructuring is complete Airgas Specialty Gases, Inc., will no longer be a separate legal entity and all of the business and operations of Airgas Specialty Gases, Inc., will be carried out by Airgas USA, LLC. The restructuring is illustrated below:

Due to this restructuring Airgas, Inc. wishes to make an indirect transfer of ownership of licenses from its wholly owned subsidiary Airgas Specialty Gases, Inc. to it's wholly owned subsidiary Airgas USA, LLC.

There will be no change in personnel facilities equipment or procedures and the status of the surveillance programs will remain the same. All records will be kept in the same facilities and transferee will abide by all constraints, conditions and requirements of the licensed program.

Shipping International, Inc. will remain the forwarder and will work under a new power of attorney signed by Airgas USA LLC.

Best Regards,

Eric Carroll
