Subject: follow up to today's call

To: "Ryan Schierman (ryan.schierman@wyo.gov)" <ryan.schierman@wyo.gov>

Hello,

This is a follow-up to today's call.

It would be great if we can document how Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) would respond to a few situations with regard to the Trespass Law.

One scenario of interest would be if a concerned individual (CI) from a public road were to witness a truck with markings indicating that it belonged to a Wyoming uranium recovery licensee dumping waste material on private property.

Can the Wyoming DEQ use the information obtained by the CI? Would the CI be liable to criminal prosecution?

What if the CI unknowingly followed the truck down a private road - Can the Wyoming DEQ use the information obtained by the CI? Would the CI be liable to criminal prosecution?

What steps would Wyoming DEQ take in order to look into the allegation?

Does Wyoming DEQ have unfettered access to information with regard to ensuring public health and safety relating to regulation of the radioactive material within its jurisdiction?

I think answering these questions would help us toward resolving these issues with OGC.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Steve
