Relocation of Cycle-specific Limits
Proposed Revision to Technical Specifications

By letter dated July 13, 1992 I submitted a proposed amendment to relocate certain cycle-specific parameter limits from Technical Specifications to the Core Operating Limits Report (COLR). Upon further review, proposed changes to the Bases regarding temperature assumptions in shutdown margin analyses will not be necessary. As such, Attachment 1 provides revised pages. The remainder of the July 13, 1992 amendment request, including the Technical Justification and No Significant Hazards Consideration Evaluation, remains valid.

In response to an NRC staff request, Attachment 2 provides a discussion of the analytical methods used to determine the associated COLR limits.

Very Truly Yours,

J. W. Hampton
