For Information Only — Technical Justification Documents 51-9131378-002/003, “Technical Justification for Detection of Leak Path Indications in Reactor Pressure Vessel Upper Head Penetrations, PA-MS-C-0532

The PWROG project includes separate technical justifications from AREVA and Westinghouse (WesDyne). The Westinghouse portion was completed and was transmitted to the NRC under PWROG Letter OG-10-02, dated January 4, 2010. The AREVA NP portion is complete and is now being transmitted.

On March 17, 2009, representatives from the PWROG, NEI, EPRI, MRP and Westinghouse had an information meeting with NRR to discuss the industry response to the requirement to demonstrate the ultrasonic testing (UT) leak path technique as set forth in 10CFR50.55a) dated September 10, 2008. At this meeting, the PWROG presented their program to develop a technical justification in accordance with ASME V Article 14 and that EPRI would perform an independent review of the technical justification document. In addition, EPRI agreed to augment the blind testing requirement for ultrasonic testing data analyst personnel with leak path samples. A commitment was made that the PWROG technical justification report and the EPRI review would be provided to the NRC. The blind testing of data analysts is currently underway and does include leak path test samples.

This letter transmits four (4) proprietary and two (2) non-proprietary copies of Technical Justification Document 51-9131378-002/003, “Technical Justification for Detection of Leak Path Indications in Reactor Pressure Vessel Upper Head Penetrations” developed by AREVA NP under PA-MS-C-0532 and EPRI letter MRP 2010-057. These documents are being submitted for information only. As such, no Safety Evaluation (SE) is expected, therefore, no review fees should be incurred.
