Temporary Job Site Inspection _____

PROGRAM SCOPE

This was a routine, unannounced inspection of a consulting firm that provides leak test and instrument calibration services to its clients. The in-office review consisted of a review of training records that were unavailable during the on-site inspection. The main office was located behind the radiation safety officer's residence. At the time of the inspection, the licensee had a number of check sources and exempt sources stored in boxes behind lead bricks. The licensee also possessed a Cs-137 calibration source. All radioactive material was adequately secured from public access.

The inspector discussed package receipt, handling, and shipping procedures with licensee staff. The licensee demonstrated adequate knowledge of emergency procedures in the event of receipt of a contaminated package. The inspector reviewed a selection of licensee records, including source inventories, leak test records, survey meter calibration records, package receipt logs, and dosimetry with no issues noted. In addition, the inspector performed independent surveys, which revealed no readings that would indicate residual contamination or exposures to members of the public in excess of regulatory limits.

No violations were identified during this inspection and a previous violation involving failure to complete annual radiation safety refresher training was closed.
