4. Twenty (20) copies of information requested on antitrust matters by the Attorney General of the United States.

Applicant has prepared and has ready for submission an additional one hundred (100) copies of its Environmental Report for this unit. At the request of the Division of Reactor Licensing, Applicant is holding these copies for submission when requested.

Applicant has also prepared an additional twenty-five (25) copies of the information requested by the Attorney General in the event that antitrust matters should become the subject of a hearing in this proceeding.

In the material submitted in response to certain questions raised by the Attorney General of the United States, there was no mention of Niagara Mohawk's recently announced plans for a sixth oil-fired generating unit at its Oswego steam station. The announcement about this plant came after the material had been prepared.

In accordance with the Commission's Regulations, Applicant encloses a check in the amount of Seventy Thousand Dollars ($70,000) as the filing fee for its application for a construction permit.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by proper documentation and that the books should be kept up-to-date at all times. The second part of the document provides a detailed explanation of the accounting cycle, which consists of eight steps: identifying the accounting cycle, analyzing and journalizing the business transactions, posting to the ledger, determining debits and credits, preparing a trial balance, adjusting the accounts, preparing financial statements, and closing the books. The third part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls and the role of the auditor. It explains that internal controls are designed to prevent and detect errors and fraud, and that the auditor's role is to provide an independent opinion on the fairness of the financial statements. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of ethics in accounting and the role of the accountant. It explains that accountants have a duty to act in the best interests of the public and to maintain the highest standards of integrity and honesty. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of communication in accounting and the role of the accountant. It explains that accountants must be able to communicate effectively with their clients and colleagues, and that they must be able to explain complex accounting concepts in a clear and concise manner.

Mr. L. Manning Muntzing -- Page Three.

Upon completion of this service an Affidavit of Service will be filed with the Commission.
