Commissioner Joseph Hendrie
Director, Nuclear Energy Commission

Dear Mr. Hendrie:

I demand that you deny approval of an operating permit for the Diablo Canyon Reactor. The plant is 12 miles southwest of San Luis Obispo, putting the city frequently downwind of the reactor. There are no present plans for a safe and total evacuation of the city, in case of a radiation emergency.

I am extremely skeptical after viewing ABC Television's program, 20/20, on July 31. A segment of it indicated that the Zion Reactors in Illinois sit ten miles north of a population approximately the same size of San Luis Obispo. Effecting the town of Waukegan, there is no way to safely evacuate its population at this time, in case of emergency. The risk of emergency necessitating evacuation is 1 in 200, according to the Commission. The risk of an LD/50 is either 1 in 20 or 1 in 10.

California is setting a hallmark for safe, renewable energy supply and conservatism. The plant can be converted; I urge that you help continue our trend.

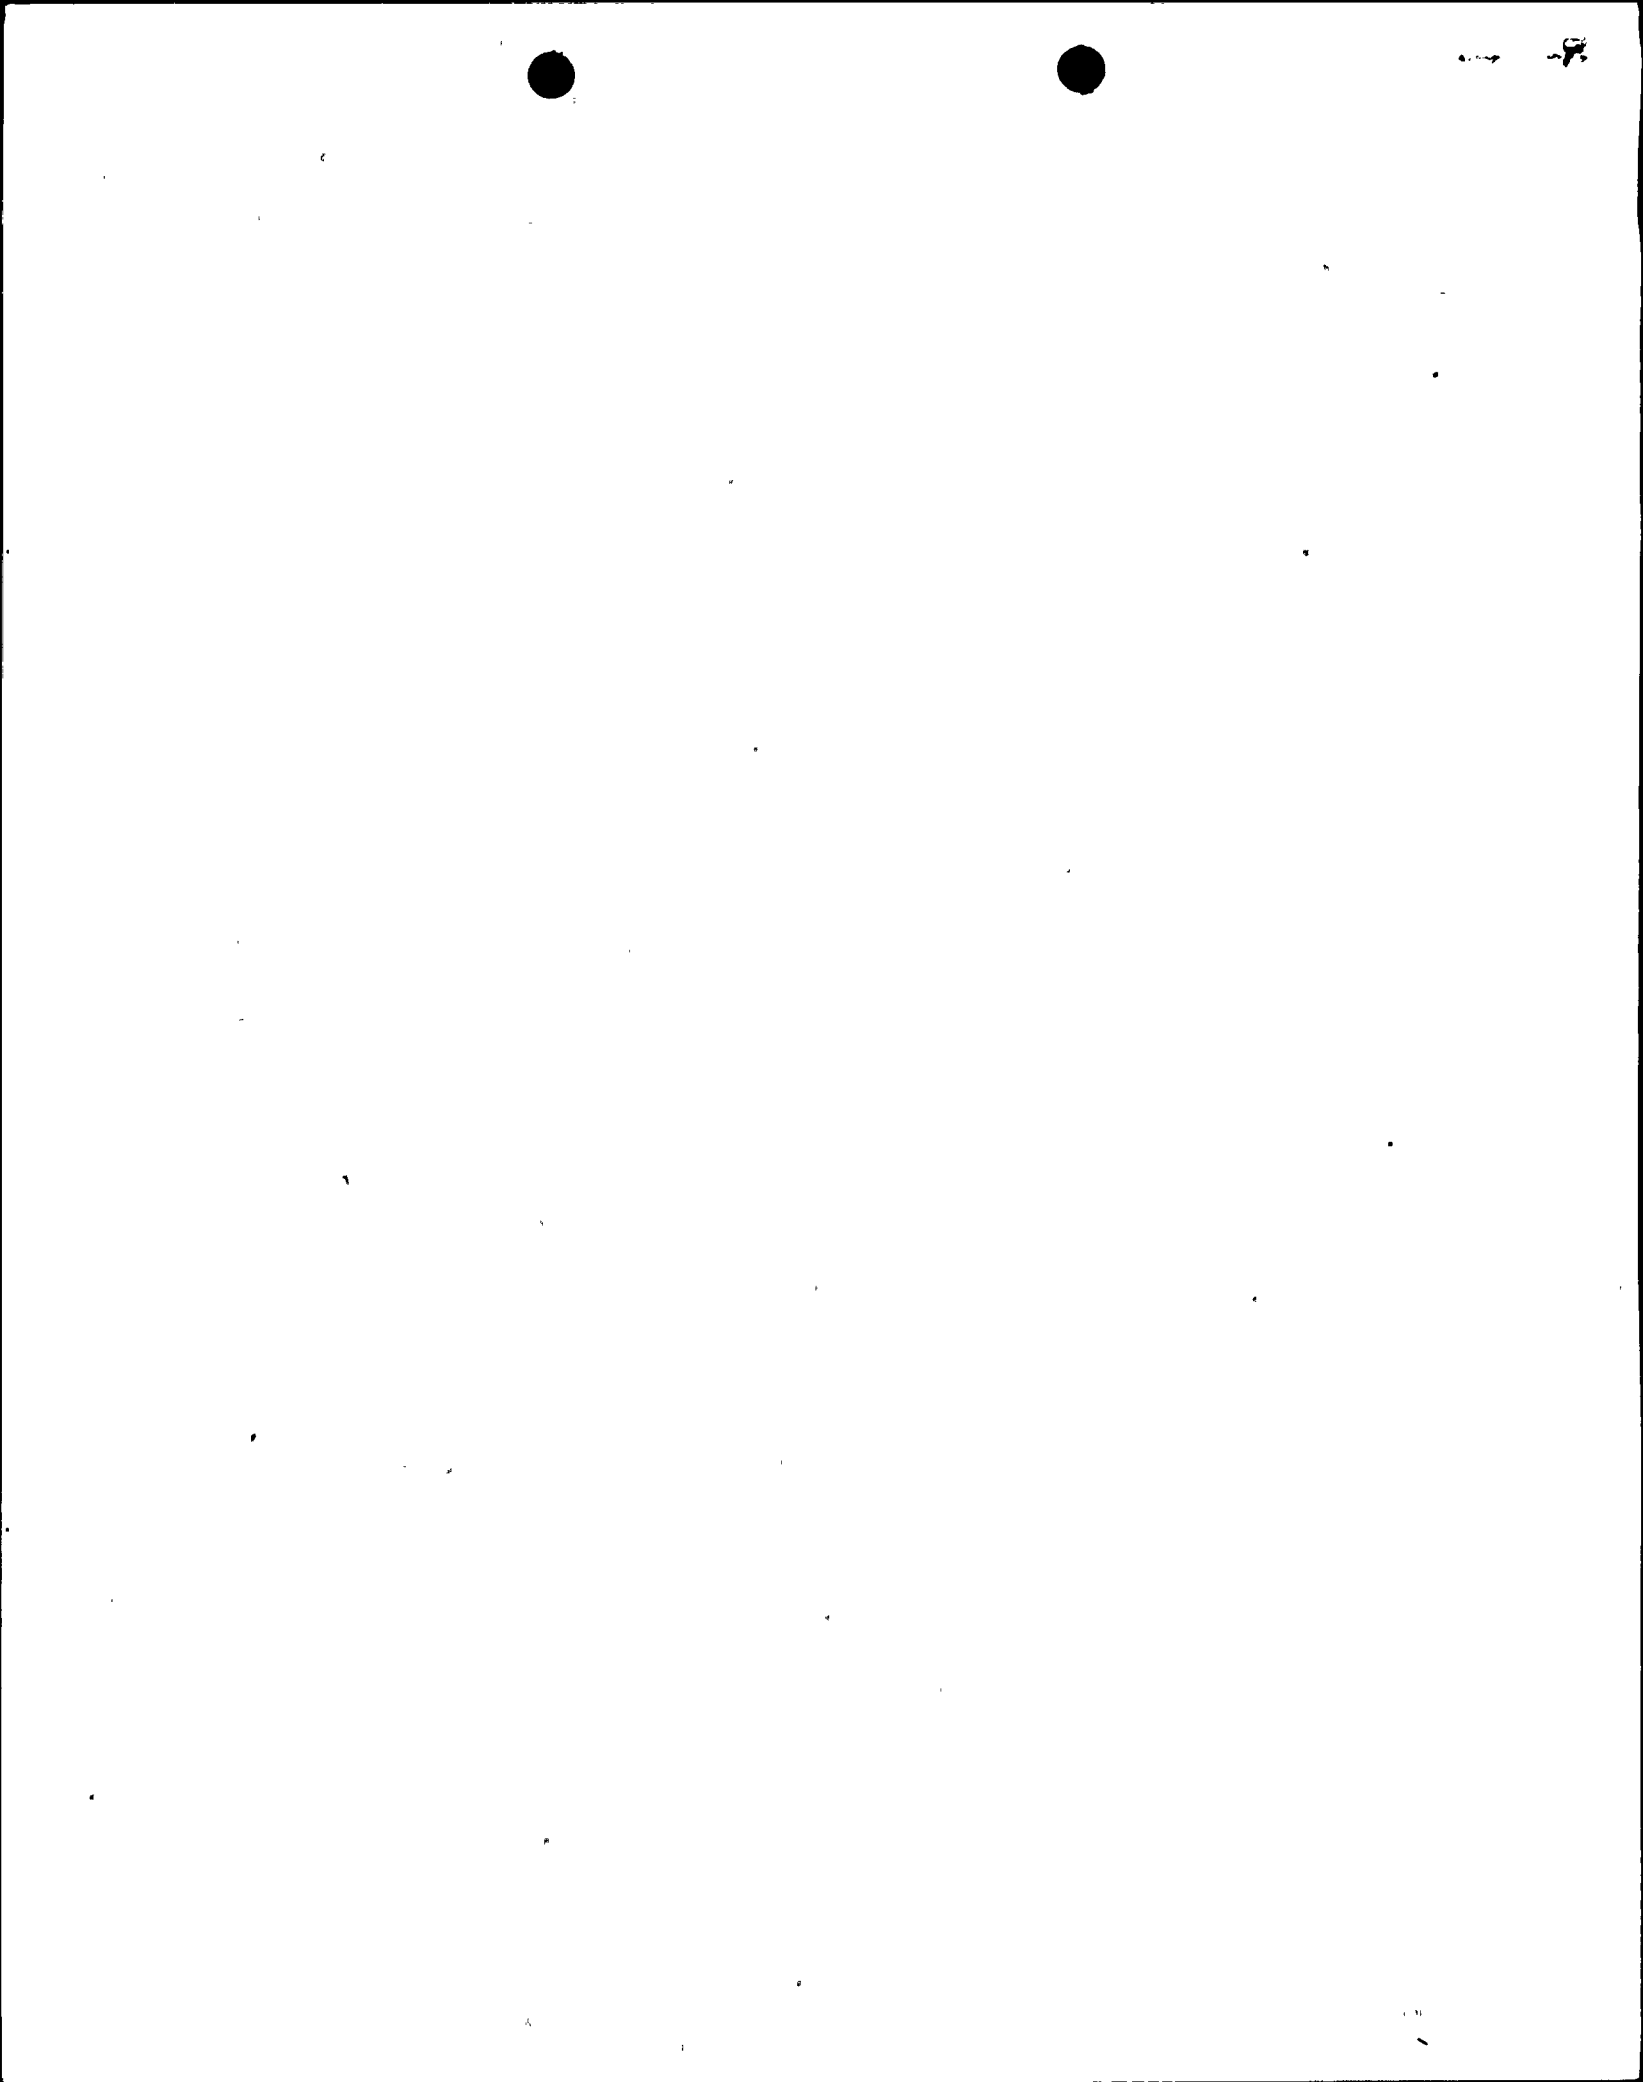

Sincerely,

Larry Wartels
