Dear Darrell Eisenhart

I can't feel I am part of an ever growing number of people who feel totally dismayed and disillusioned by the revelations regarding Diablo Canyon. Is it really true that the NRC in succumbing to administration pressure to license nuclear facilities allows PG&E to take over all the safety checks? ~~It~~ Sir if I might say so, this is outrageous! Where is your credibility?

I believe the NRC had better rethink its policies. Safety is more important than any other consideration. I believe our present ^{administration} is very naive in its thinking on nuclear power. After all consider the man's background. It always works out well in the movies doesn't it? But the world of nuclear power is altogether different. We are dealing with potential catastrophe in the case of an accident. Now I know we've all been assured this is impossible, but after today's radio reports I wonder what all these assurances mean — perhaps it's only your wishful thinking Mr Commissioner.
