Attention: Mr. J. D. Shiffer, Vice President
Nuclear Power Generation

Gentlemen:

Subject: NRC Inspection - Diablo Canyon Units 1 and 2

This refers to the routine inspection conducted by Messrs. M. Cillis and C. A. Hooker of this office on August 26-30, 1985, of activities authorized by NRC License Nos. DPR-80, and DPR-82 and to the discussion of our findings held by Mr. Cillis with Mr. Thornberry and other members of your staff at the conclusion of the inspection.

Areas examined during this inspection are described in the enclosed inspection report. Within these areas, the inspection consisted of selective examinations of procedures and representative records, interviews with personnel, and observations by the inspectors.

No violations of NRC requirements were identified within the scope of this inspection.

In accordance with 10 CFR 2.790(a), a copy of this letter and the enclosure will be placed in the NRC Public Document Room.

Should you have any questions concerning this inspection, we will be glad to discuss them with you.

Sincerely,
R. J. Fish for
F. A. Wenslawski, Chief

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures that the financial statements are reliable and can be audited without any discrepancies.

In the second section, the author outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data. This includes both primary and secondary research techniques. The primary research involves direct observation and interviews, while secondary research involves analyzing existing data sources. The analysis of this data is crucial for identifying trends and making informed decisions.

The third part of the document focuses on the implementation of the findings. It details the steps taken to put the research into practice, including the development of new products and the implementation of marketing strategies. The author notes that while there were some challenges, the overall results were positive and exceeded expectations.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key findings and a list of recommendations for future research. The author suggests that further studies should be conducted to explore the long-term effects of the implemented strategies and to identify new areas for innovation.
