Dear Sirs;

There's no evidence that mergers like this one have benefited consumers in any way. Often there's less competition, higher fees and loan rates, and increased inconvenience," said Stephen Brobeck, executive director of Consumers Federation of America, a Washington-based consumer group.

I know this clipping is about BANK MERGERS but the principle is the same - I AM AGAINST THE PECO/PPL merger. When are you people in Washington going to get off your FAT, overpaid suits and help out the majority who are fast slipping down the economic scale?

Putt- soon the only ones left in this country will be the filthy rich CEO's and the poor - do you think these rich people you are protecting are going to help pay your salary as we are doing? THINK AGAIN - DO SOMETHING BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE
