Dear Sir:

Once more a giant company is trying to take over a well run small company. If this happens the consumer will pay much higher prices and receive less service. I am refering Philadelphia Electric Co. (PECO) which is trying to take over Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. (P.P.&L.Co.). This will result in the loss of many jobs in our area. P.P.&L.Co. has given me wonderful service at a fair price and people in our area seem pleased with them. On the other hand PECO is known for poor service and high prices and they have been cited many times for violations.

It is time to help the hard working average guy who has no political power or financial resources to fight the Bandits of Greed.

They broke up the best phone company in the world, now we must buy expensive phones that break down and repair services are very expensive and undependable. Congress got involved in lowering my cable T.V. bill. I paid $18.00 a month before Congress helped me, now I pay $23.00 a month for the same service.

I am not an employee of P.P.& L. Co. or do I have any relatives or friends who work for them. I am just trying to speak for myself and thousands of other little people in Pennsylvania who are sick and tired of paying more and receiving less. Please help us.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration.
