Docket No. 50-498

SUBJECT: MEETING REGARDING MISSING RECORDS - SOUTH TEXAS PROJECT
UNITS 1 & 2, DN 50-498; 50-499

On May 19, 1980, I attended a meeting in the San Antonio office of W. C. McGlothlin, Jr., Attorney, which included the following other persons:

Finis Cowan, Attorney for HL&P
L. R. Jacobi, Supervising Engineer, HL&P
S. S. Rodgers, Licensing Team Leader, HL&P
Lanny Sinkin, Representative for Citizens Concerned About Nuclear Power
W. C. McGlothlin, Jr., Attorney

Mr. Cowan initiated the meeting by indicating that HL&P was interested in locating original South Texas Project Cadweld inspection records, which were missing from the project records center. Since copies of several of the missing records had been previously obtained from Mr. Sinkin, HL&P was interested in tracing the origin of the records Mr. Sinkin had in his possession as a possible clue to the whereabouts of the remaining missing records. Mr. Cowan stressed that he could not offer a promise of immunity from subsequent legal action regarding the removal of these records from the site; however, it was not his intent to pursue legal action at that time.

Mr. Sinkin produced a packet of what appeared to be Cadweld inspection and Cadweld location records from the South Texas Project. My inspection of these records confirmed that they appeared to be original site records. Several had the appearance of having been torn from file folders, and having been folded into quarter sheet size. Mr. Jacobi indicated that the records inspected were not all that had been identified by HL&P as being missing. Mr. Cowan again stressed that HL&P was interested in exploring the avenue by which Mr. Sinkin had obtained these original records as a possible clue to locating the remaining missing records. Mr. Sinkin closed the meeting with his intent to discuss the matter of the remaining missing records with his intervenor group.

This meeting was basically between Messrs Cowan and Sinkin, with McGlothlin and myself there as "third parties"; and with Jacobi and Rodgers as technical support to Cowan.
