It is a communication vehicle that fosters informal, open dialogue between the public and the NRC staff, and supports the NRC's strategic objective to ensure openness and transparency. The RIC offers an environment in which NRC staff and stakeholders share relevant information, exchange views and perspectives, and raise concerns about the important safety, security, and policy issues before the agency. As we continue to learn from recent events and natural disasters, this forum is crucial to the mission of the agency. The 2017 RIC featured 4 plenary sessions and 28 technical sessions, with 124 panelists without session chairs and 154 with session chairs. The conference drew 2255 attendees, including 213 international participants from 32 countries.	Chairman's Waiver Publicly available ADAMS under Accession Number ML16153A418
