General Comment

Keep your spent nuclear fuel out of New Mexico!!! The only acceptable location for Holtec's interim storage facility is at Yucca Mountain in Nevada as the NRC's inability to to open Yucca Mountain has demonstrated that there is no such thing as an interim storage facility. That way your spent nuclear fuel is already next to its planned permanent storage location and Nevadan's can start getting used to the concept. Either that or shove it all up Harry Reid's ass.
