Gentlemen:

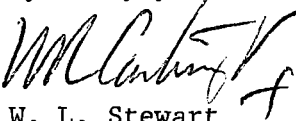

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY
NOMAD CODE AND MODEL

Our letter Serial No. 545 dated October 14, 1983 transmitted for your review forty (40) copies of the Vepco Topical Report VEP-NFE-1, "The Vepco NOMAD Code and Model." This Topical Report was not considered proprietary by Vepco. However, Westinghouse has recently informed us that they believe that the submittal may contain information which is proprietary to Westinghouse Electric Corporation. As a result, Vepco has agreed to take the necessary actions to protect this information.

Accordingly, we request that you treat the copies of the report previously forwarded to you as proprietary and withdraw the copy from the Public Document Room. We will prepare, as soon as possible, both proprietary and non-proprietary versions of the Topical Report supported by the proper affidavit to set forth the basis for which this information may be withheld from public disclosure.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact us.

Very truly yours,

W. L. Stewart
