Dr. Bose, as noted on our website for board recognition (<https://www.nrc.gov/materials/miau/med-use-toolkit/spec-board-cert.html>) ABR certificates issued after 2012 are issued for a 4 year period and must be maintained. Therefore, Dr. Lin's initial certification would have expired after 2017 if not maintained. Confirmation on ABR's website may be obtained to confirm that an ABR certified doctor has maintained their certification. I confirmed that Dr. Lin maintained his certification thru 2020. For future requests, please submit evidence that the requested doctor has maintained his/her certification. Thank you
