General Comment

The present SONGS storage plan is too dangerous to be permitted to continue. The containers are too thin and only guaranteed for 20 years. The site is too close to the ocean and too close to sea-level. There is an earthquake fault in the immediate area. The proposal to move the storage site to one across the I-5 freeway and to much higher, dryer ground makes sense. The government already owns the land. Do not gamble with the safety of 8.5 million people in Southern California. Do not endanger our Marine base and Navy facilities in proximity to the present site; this is thus a matter of National security.
