Good afternoon Mr. Stills,

I am following-up regarding your e-mail below about the forms that Dr. Nickens shared with the Tribes earlier this week. As Dr. Nickens explained, the purpose of these formats is to acquire consistent and standardized information for each place revisited or discovered during the upcoming Tribal field survey. However, each Tribal field crew is free to record their own notes during the course of the fieldwork. We are happy to talk further with the Tribes about the forms on Monday.

Regarding your request for short biographies, the two main individuals that will be working with the NRC staff will be Dr. Paul Nickens and Dr. Richard Stoffle. You can find their biographies below and attached.

Dr. Richard Stoffle:

Dr. Paul Nickens – Attached

We also want to take the opportunity to clarify that the two individuals accompanying Dr. Nickens and me next week, while students in Dr. Richard Stoffle's academic program, for the purpose of the contract with the NRC, are Associates of SC&A, Inc. Similarly, Dr. Stoffle is an Associate of SC&A, Inc. and, for the purpose of the contract with NRC, is not acting on behalf of University of Arizona.

I think you have Kellee's and my contact information, but I'm providing below.

Diana Diaz-Toro, NRC Project Manager, 301-415-0930, Diana.Diaz-Toro@nrc.gov
Kellee Jamerson, NRC Project Manager, 301-415-7408, Kellee.Jamerson@nrc.gov

Thank you and I look forward to continue to work with the Oglala Sioux Tribe.

Regards,
Diana

Subject: [External_Sender] Re: Dewey-Burdock Field Survey Documentation Formats

Paul,

Do you have background materials that correspond to the criteria list for the Traditional Cultural Property Potential? It would be helpful for our review of the proposed field documentation forms. The proposed forms are helpful to our ongoing efforts. If possible, can you provide them in Word format?

Also, the University of Arizona has disavowed any institutional involvement or approval of the upcoming surveys, so their name should be taken off the forms. Contact information:

Last, please provide the name, a short biography, and contact information for each person who is working or plans to work on the survey, whether on site or remotely. I will extend the same request to NRC Staff and Powertech by separate email.

Thank you,

Travis
