ATTACHMENT B - PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Project Description

1. Capacity and ability of the institution to effectively conduct the program including quality and feasibility of the recruitment and marketing strategies. (25 points)

Background The Mechanical Engineering (ME) and the Chemical and Materials (formerly Metallurgical) Engineering (CME) Departments at the University of Nevada, Reno (UNR) have conducted externally-funded nuclear-related research since 1993. For example, the ME Department has developed experimentally-benchmarked computational simulations to predict the performance of used nuclear fuel transport casks under fire accident conditions, and the temperature of used nuclear fuel assemblies under vacuum drying conditions. The CME Department has conducted research to determine the performance and reliability of materials in advanced nuclear power applications. These projects have been supported by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), the Department of Energy (DOE), Nuclear Energy University Program (NEUP), the Nevada Office of Nuclear Projects, and private corporations. The two departments work closely together and share courses and seminar series.

Education The interest in Nuclear Power amongst students at UNR has been surging. To help address this demand, the Materials Science and Engineering (MSE) program initiated an undergraduate Nuclear Materials Emphasis degree program in MSE, which is now pursued by majority of the undergraduate students (>50%) in MSE. Recently, we have revamped our graduate education by creating and regularly offering 4 new graduate courses such as MSE 665: Fundamentals of Nuclear Power, MSE 666: Nuclear Fuel Cycle, MSE 667: Radiation Detection and Measurement, and MSE 668: Nuclear Materials. Student enrollment in the nuclear courses has gone up significantly from ~5-10 students in 2011 to ~30-45 students/each course in 2016. More new courses are planned due to growing student interest. The ME Department recently initiated a unique Graduate Certificate in Nuclear Packaging with support from the DOE Packaging Certification Program. That program has enrolled 32 students, and awarded its first Certificate in December 2016. Due to student interests, a student chapter of the American Nuclear Society (ANS) was started in November 2014. The membership now stands close to 100 students (Fig 1). UNR has partnered with University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) and the University of Utah (UU), which have, respectively, a program in radiochemistry and a new minor in Nuclear

Engineering, to share unique Nuclear-Related Engineering Courses. We have offered courses via the internet using this agreement. While UNR does not have a Nuclear Engineering Department, the faculty at UNR are performing research and developing educational opportunities in Materials and Thermal Science for Nuclear Power that help prepare students who can support the mission of the NRC. The recent graduates and Fellows from the previous NRC awards have all obtained prestigious positions at various National laboratories: Dr. [REDACTED] (Maria Goepfert Distinguished Fellow at Argonne National Laboratory), Ms. [REDACTED] (Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory), [REDACTED] (Russel L Heath Distinguished Fellow, Idaho National Laboratory) and [REDACTED] (Los Alamos National Laboratory).

Objective This funding will continue a Fellowship Program in Materials and Thermal Science for Nuclear Energy that recruits and supports outstanding students to earn graduate degrees at UNR. The goal is to increase the number and quality of students receiving MS and Ph.D. degrees at UNR who are able to support the design, construction, operation, and regulation of nuclear facilities, and the safe handling of nuclear materials. There are at least nine faculty members across four departments conducting nuclear science research at UNR.

Recruitment and Marketing At UNR, each academic department and the graduate school (<http://www.unr.edu/grad/>) have dynamic programs for recruiting graduate students. The UNR Graduate School is a recruiting member of the California Forum for Diversity in Graduate Education (<https://www.caldiversityforum.org>). CFDGE is a consortium of public and private colleges and universities in California. CFDGE organizes two forums every year to meet the needs of advanced undergraduates and master's candidates belonging to groups that are currently underrepresented in doctoral-level programs such as low-income and first-generation college students, African Americans, American Indians, Hispanics, Pacific Islanders and Asian American women. Well over 1200 students attend and participate in these forums and more than 75% of the students have a GPA of over 3.0. UNR Graduate School has been highly successful in recruiting graduate students at these forums. At the departmental level, both the ME and CME departments are actively involved in marketing our programs to undergraduate seniors at UNR and various institutions.

In addition to our routine recruiting programs described above, we propose to conduct the following activities specifically for the purpose of administering a successful NRC grant:

1. Design, print and mail informational flyers and brochures advertising the Fellowships. Publish them online on the UNR graduate school and departmental websites. Announcements of the fellowships will be made on online sites such as academickeys.com. The poster that was mailed to all Materials Engineering and Mechanical Engineering departments in the country is shown in Fig. 2.
2. Provide these informational materials to the UNR recruiters and our departmental faculty who actively travel to other institutions for research, instruction and recruiting purposes.
3. We have informal agreements with regional partner institutions, UNLV, UU, and U of I, to advertise these fellowships to their graduating students, so those students can pursue their graduate work at UNR.
4. We will also hold a recruitment weekend for invited eligible applicants. The agenda would consist of individual meetings with selected faculty in our departmental programs, interaction with existing departmental graduate students, tours of the campus and facilities.

Fig 2: Poster mailed around the country advertising the Fellowships

In summary, we will work diligently to identify the best and the brightest of the students to receive these coveted fellowships.

Fellowships Benefits The following describes the benefits a graduate student will receive if he/she is awarded a Fellowship at UNR:

1. [REDACTED]

The stipend amount was chosen to be midpoint between the current stipend at UNR and the DOE National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) Stewardship Science Graduate Fellowship. The MS stipend is roughly [REDACTED] less. The Fellow will select a UNR faculty Research Advisor, and together they will choose an appropriate MS thesis or Ph.D. dissertation topic. The Research Advisor will provide an appropriate research environment, including all needed laboratory space, research materials, equipment, computational facilities, research supervision, and program/professional advice. Each Fellow will be encouraged to spend one summer working as an intern at a National Lab, the NRC or a nuclear industry facility performing research and analysis that will enhance his/her professional experience and development. Faculty members at UNR have collaborations with members of several facilities. The appendix of this proposal contains letters from the Argonne National Laboratory. . Further, UNR has a signed agreement with Areva Inc, stating their interest in hosting the Fellows during summer.

Fellowship Requirements The conditions the Fellows must fulfill to receive and maintain a fellowship at UNR are given below. It should be noted that the conditions are not beyond NRC requirements, but clarify some criteria required by NRC.

1. US Citizenship or permanent residency
2. Enroll full time (6 credits/semester) in the graduate program at UNR
3. Sign the mandatory Service agreement with NRC
4. Maintain a GPA of 3.3 or better (on a 4.0 scale) each semester and make good academic progress.

If the Fellow does not maintain the required GPA during a semester, then he/she will be placed on probation for one semester, during which time the Fellow will be required to improve the GPA to the required level. Making good academic progress is based on Fellows research output. If research output is unsatisfactory, the student will be placed on probation for one semester to improve research productivity. If research productivity is poor due to reasons beyond the Fellow's control, then the student will be provided more supervision and help to make good research progress. If the above conditions are not met during probation, the student will be dismissed from the Fellowship Program, and replaced by another student.

Fellowship Program Committee This committee will administer the program. It will consist of the PI and the Co-PI named on the proposal, the graduate program chairs of the ME and CME Departments (or their representatives), and one external member. The bulk of the work will be performed by the PI's, but the other committee members will provide input and have voting rights. This committee will market the program to senior undergraduates and graduate students at UNR and other universities, with efforts to reach out to women, minorities and disabled students. Students pursuing Ph.D. and MS degrees will be recruited. Students will submit a Fellowship Application consisting of a UNR graduate admission application (which includes transcripts, GPA, standardized test scores, and letters of recommendations), proof of US citizenship or permanent residency, an essay describing their background and professional goals, and an indication that they are willing to fulfill the Fellowship Requirements (listed above) if they accept the fellowship. The Fellowship Committee will review all applications based on merit and the availability of resources (expertise and infrastructure) for the student to pursue the research in their chosen field. The Committee will select, invite and reimburse travel expenses for outstanding off-campus applicants to visit UNR. Awards will be made so that two Fellows are funded at all times during the four year duration of the program. Awards will not be made until the student has signed the NRC service agreement, and a letter indicating he/she is aware of and will fulfill the Fellowship Requirements to the best of their abilities. UNR agrees to provide NRC with a list of students supported under Fellowship program and agrees to conduct and provide compliance monitoring of students' academic performance.

If there is any reduction of costs to the program compared to the budgeted amounts, the Program Committee will have the responsibility of assigning those funds to either support an additional Fellow, or to support the research environment of an existing fellow. UNR agrees to notify student grant recipients who fail to satisfy the service agreement requirement of the program either obtain a waiver form NRC or reimburse the US Government for the amount of assistance provided Mentoring, Advising and Existing Programs of Study Mentoring and advisement will be primarily performed by the Faculty Research Advisor with support from the Fellowship Program Committee. The Committee will provide the Fellows with a clear statement of the program requirements, and will describe how the fellow will be evaluated for retention in the program. The Research Advisor will help the student choose courses, mentor his/her research activities, and provide professional guidance. The Advisor will also help the fellow make contacts with technical staff at National Laboratories, the NRC and/or nuclear related industry to further the Fellow's professional objectives and to identify the most appropriate internship opportunity. The Advisor will have the responsibility of monitoring the Fellows progress (including grades and evaluation by the course instructors).

As mentioned earlier, UNR has a history of nuclear materials and thermal science research funding from the NRC, DOE, National Labs, the State of Nevada and private industry. We also have nuclear related coursework and seminar speakers. These established programs will provide the Fellows with a wide variety of research and educational opportunities, and will prepare them for productive careers in the nuclear industry.

Moreover, the Fellows will be given opportunities to participate in the larger professional community. Fellow will be encouraged to take advantage of existing financial (Fellowships) opportunities from other agencies such as NSF, DOE, NEUP and NNSA, all of which are considered highly prestigious awards. Any savings to the Fellowship Program will be used to either support an additional Fellow, or support the research activities of an existing Fellow. The Fellows will also have an option to conduct a summer internship in their field of research to gain work experience and develop professional contacts, which will help him/her find an appropriate nuclear related professional placement after graduation. The Research Advisor and the Fellowship committee will help the student identify summer research opportunities. The appendix of this proposal contains letters from the Argonne National Laboratory. Further, UNR has a signed agreement with Areva Inc, stating their interest in hosting the Fellows during summer.

3. Feasibility and completeness of an evaluation plan to measure the effectiveness of the scholarship or fellowship program. (15 points)

The success of the UNR Fellowship Program will be based on the following achievements:

1. The professional placement of the Fellows in positions of leadership in the nuclear industry or government, which will help the Fellows realize a satisfying and productive career.
2. The contribution the Fellows make to the development and growth of UNR programs.

The contribution of the Program to student success cannot be fully measured until well after the Fellow has completed the program. However, the following attributes are widely believed to lead to success, and will be continuously monitored and emphasized by the Research Advisor during the Fellow's graduate study:

1. Course Grades, and supplemental evaluation by course instructors
2. Development of new methods and knowledge leading to archival publications
3. Fellow's professional growth, including research independence and ability to be mentored.
4. Participation and leadership within University and associated National Laboratory research groups (such as ANS chapter)
5. Participation in proposal writing
6. Conference and Professional Society student awards
7. Timely progression toward degree completion

The Fellow will make contributions to the life and growth of the program by his/her interaction with faculty members and peers. The Fellowship program is expected to increase the visibility of the Materials and Thermal Science research at UNR, and hence improve the number and quality of the graduate school applicants and graduates. To assess the effect of the Fellowship Program, the following quantitative measures during the program will be compared to historical statistics: (i) the number of student applicants, (ii) the number of US applicants, (iii) the average GPA of the applicants and (iv) the standardized test scores of the applicants. We will try to determine if the professional placement of Fellows differs from that of the other students.

4. Institutional support, sustainability, and number of students served. (25 points)

UNR is highly committed to strengthening its nuclear and related research and has invested significant amount of resources into the same. In 2012, the UNR College of Engineering supported nuclear power engineering by establishing the Nuclear Materials Emphasis within the MSE department. This emphasis has formalized an association between a number of faculty members and students performing research in nuclear power engineering. The ME Department recently established a Graduate Certificate in Nuclear Packaging. The ME and CME departments sponsor a joint seminar series which hosts numerous nuclear power speakers. The University Provost and the Dean of the College of Engineering (CoEN) granted a new tenure track faculty line with focus on nuclear materials (with support from NRC faculty Development award) which was filled last year with a stellar candidate. Moreover, three other faculty members whose research aligns with nuclear materials have been hired in the last few years. The college of engineering is committed to strengthening its nuclear materials education and research program (please see letter of support from Dean of Engineering). Thus, the institution strongly supports the nuclear research initiative.

The number of students served by this program will depend on the mix of MS and Ph.D. students selected by the Program Committee, and the amount of time the Fellows require to complete their degree. Our initial plan is to support two PhD students starting in year 1. If two Ph.D. fellows are initially funded, and they require four years to complete their degrees, then two students will be served. However, if they require less time to complete their degrees, or are funded by other projects/fellowships, and/or more MS students (who normally take 1.5 to 2 years to graduate) are funded, then three to five students will be served.

5. Innovation-Partnerships/Consortia/Minority Institutional/Distance Learning (10 points)

UNR is a member of a consortium on Nuclear Power Educational with the UNLV and UU. We have successfully shared courses. For example, a course on Radiation Detection was taught at UNR and offered via web-based methods to UU. We also have an informal agreement to advertise Fellowships offered by each institution to our students. The Fellows may intern at a National Lab or other off-campus facility. This will further develop our collaboration with technical staff at those locations. The Fellowship Program will make funding UNR research programs more attractive to researchers at those facilities because they will have experience working with our Fellows, the Fellows gain experience working in areas of interest to the off-campus researchers, and the Fellows will already be funded by NRC. As described earlier, we have an office dedicated to increasing diversity and participate in various programs targeted at underrepresented groups in graduate programs such as low-income and first-generation college students, African Americans, American Indians, Hispanics (~28% of state population), Pacific Islanders and Asian American women. Thus, the Fellowship Program will be administered effectively.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Standard Terms and Conditions for U.S. Nongovernmental Recipients

Preface

This award is based on the application submitted to, and as approved by, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) under the authorization 42 U.S.C. § 2051\(b\), pursuant to section 31b and 141b of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and is subject to the terms and conditions incorporated either directly or by reference in the grant or cooperative agreement. The following also apply:

- Restrictions on the expenditure of Federal funds in appropriation acts, to the extent those restrictions are pertinent to the award.
- Code of Federal Regulations/Regulatory Requirements – 2 CFR Part 200 Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards.

Any inconsistency or conflict in terms and conditions specified in the award will be resolved according to the following order of precedence: public laws, regulations, applicable notices published in the Federal Register, Executive Orders (E.O.), Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circulars, the NRC's Mandatory Standard Provisions, special award conditions, and standard award conditions.

Certifications and Representations: These terms incorporate the certifications and representations required by statute, executive order, or regulation that were submitted with the SF424B application through GRANTS.GOV.

I. Mandatory General Requirements

The order of these requirements does not make one requirement more important than any other requirement.

1. Applicability of 2 CFR Part 200

All provisions of 2 CFR Part 200 and all Standard Provisions attached to this grant/cooperative agreement are applicable to the Recipient and to sub-recipients which meet the definition of "Recipient" in 2 Part §200.86, unless a section specifically excludes a sub-recipient from coverage. The Recipient and any sub-recipients must, in addition to the assurances made as part of the application, comply and require each of its sub-awardees employed in the completion of the project to comply with Subpart D of 2 CFR Part 200 and include this term in lower-tier (sub-award) covered transactions.

Recipients must comply with monitoring procedures and audit requirements in accordance with 2 CFR Part 200, Subpart F—AUDIT REQUIREMENTS.

2. Award Package

The Recipient is obligated to conduct project oversight as may be appropriate, to manage the funds with prudence, and to comply with the provisions outlined in 2 CFR Part 200. Within this framework, the Principal Investigator (PI) named on the award face page, is responsible for the scientific or technical direction of the project and for preparation of the project performance reports. This award is funded on a cost-reimbursement basis, not to exceed the amount awarded as indicated on the face page, and is subject to a refund of unexpended grant funds to the NRC.

The non-Federal entity alone must be responsible, in accordance with good administrative practice and sound business judgment, for the settlement of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements related to its grant award. These issues include, but are not limited to, source evaluation, protests, disputes, and claims. These standards do not relieve the non-Federal entity of any financial or fiduciary responsibilities or obligations arising under its grant, including sub-contracts and sub-awards, or any other contractual or financial obligation. The Federal awarding agency will not substitute its judgment for that of the non-Federal entity unless the matter is primarily a Federal concern. Violations of law will be referred to the local, State, or Federal authority having proper jurisdiction. See 2 CFR § 200.318\(k\), General Procurement Standards.

Registration in FedConnect®

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) uses Compusearch Software Systems' secure and auditable two-way web portal, FedConnect®, to communicate with vendors and contractors. FedConnect® provides bi-directional communication between the vendor/contractor and the NRC throughout pre-award, award, and post-award acquisition phases. Subawards

Appendix II to Part 200 Contract Provisions for Non-Federal Entity Contracts Under Federal Awards

Sub-recipients, sub-awardees, and contractors have no relationship with NRC under the terms of this grant/cooperative agreement. All required NRC approvals must be directed through the Recipient to NRC. See 2 CFR § 200.318.

Nondiscrimination

This provision is applicable when work under the grant/cooperative agreement is performed in the U.S. or when employees are recruited in the U.S.

The Recipient agrees to comply with the non-discrimination requirements below:

- Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. §§ 2000d et seq.), which prohibits discrimination on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.

- Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C. §§ 1681 et seq.), which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.
- Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended (29 U.S.C. § 794), which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.
- The Age Discrimination Act of 1975, as amended (42 U.S.C. §§ 6101 et seq.), which prohibits discrimination on the basis of age in any program receiving federal financial assistance.
- The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. §§ 12101 et seq.), which prohibits recipients from discriminating on the basis of disability in employment (Title I); State and local government services (Title II); and places of public accommodation and commercial facilities (Title III).
- Parts II and III of E.O. 11246, as amended by E.O. 11375, 11478, 12086, 12107, 13279, 13665, and 13672, which prohibits federal contractors and federally assisted construction contractors and subcontractors, who do over $10,000 in Government business in one year, from discriminating in employment decisions on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin and requires that government contractors take affirmative action to ensure that equal opportunity is provided in all aspects of their employment.
- E.O. 13166, "Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency," which clarifies that national origin discrimination under Title VI includes discrimination on the basis of limited English proficiency (LEP) and requires that the recipient take reasonable steps to ensure that LEP persons have meaningful access to programs and activities.
- Any other applicable non-discrimination law(s).

Generally, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e et seq, provides that it shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to discharge any individual or otherwise to discriminate against an individual with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. However, Title VII, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-1(a), expressly exempts from the prohibition against discrimination on the basis of religion, a religious corporation, association, educational institution, or society with respect to the employment of individuals of a particular religion to perform work connected with the carrying on by such corporation, association, educational institution, or society of its activities.

Applicants must ensure that individuals selected as beneficiaries of support under this grant meet the legal requirements consistent with Supreme Court Decisions including Fisher, Gratz, and Grutter.

Based on the pre-award compliance review conducted by NRC's Small Business and Civil Rights Office (SBCR), your institution is placed in a periodic status pending resolution of issues/concerns discussed with your Authorized Representative during the review. Within 60 days of the effective award date, SBCR will conduct a periodic review to ensure compliance with applicable Civil Rights statutes. SBCR will notify, within the 60 days, the institution's Authorized Representative as to the results of the review and requirements, if any, for compliance. The institution's cooperation with SBCR is essential. The continued eligibility for Federal financial assistance is conditioned upon compliance with anti-discrimination regulations.

Modifications/Prior Approval

NRC's prior written approval may be required before a Recipient makes certain budget modifications or undertakes particular activities. If NRC approval is required for changes in the grant or cooperative agreement, it must be requested and obtained from the NRC Grants Officer in advance of the change or obligation of funds. All requests for NRC prior approval, including requests for extensions to the period of performance extension, must be made, in writing (which includes submission by e-mail), to the designated Grants Officer at least 30 business days before the proposed change. The NRC Grant Officer may authorize a no cost extension of the period of performance. The recipient must submit a no cost extension request no less than 30 days prior to the award end date. Any request for a no cost extension after the grant has expired will not be approved. Any modification of the award to increase funding and/or to extend the period of performance is at the sole discretion of the NRC.

Additional funding for this award is contingent upon the availability of appropriated funds, satisfactory performance, and the recipient's capacity to manage the award and comply with award requirements. The Recipient agrees to perform work up to the amount obligated as specified in Attachment A of the grant award. NRC is not obligated to reimburse the Recipient for expenditures in excess of the total funds obligated by NRC. The Recipient is not authorized to continue performance beyond the amount obligated to this award. Any work performed by the grantee beyond the funding amount obligated in Section A will be at the grantee's risk.

II. Audit Requirements

Audits

Organization-wide or program-specific audits are performed in accordance with the Single Audit Act of 1996, as amended, and as implemented by 2 CFR Part 200, Subpart F—AUDIT REQUIREMENTS. Recipients are subject to the provisions of this subpart if they expend $750,000 or more in a year in Federal awards. See 2 CFR 200.501.

III. Programmatic Requirements

The recipient is responsible for providing documentation to the NRC that tracks each student's progress in achievement of the academic program for which federal funds were provided. This includes: (1) ensuring the service agreement is signed by the student prior to providing support; (2) providing the NRC with student contact information upon student entry into the program, upon completion or withdrawal from the program, and upon request by the NRC; and (3) monitoring the student's fulfillment of the service agreement for the duration of the award. The NRC shall be notified immediately if a student is not fulfilling the academic program or the service agreement.

Grant Performance Metrics

The Office of Management and Budget requires all Federal Agencies providing funding for educational scholarships and fellowships as well as other educational related funding to report on specific metrics. These metrics are part of the Academic Competitiveness Council's (ACC) 2007 report and specifically relates to Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) curricula.

As part of the OMB requirements indicated above (for metric reporting), the recipient shall address the following questions and submit responses with the required progress reports:

Unsatisfactory Performance

Failure to perform the work in accordance with the terms of the award and maintain at least a satisfactory performance rating may result in designation of the Recipient as high risk and the assignment of special award conditions. Further action may be required as specified in the standard term and condition entitled “Remedies for Noncompliance.”

Failure to comply with the award provisions may result in a negative impact on future NRC funding. In addition, the Grants Officer may withhold payments; change the method of payment from advance to reimbursement; impose special award conditions; suspend or terminate the grant.

Other Federal Awards With Similar Programmatic Activities

The Recipient will immediately notify the Project Officer and the Grants Officer in writing if after award, other financial assistance is received to support or fund any portion of the program description stated in the NRC award. NRC will not pay for costs that are funded by other sources.

If any site visit is made by the NRC on the premises of the Recipient or contractor under an award, the Recipient shall provide and shall require his/her contractors to provide reasonable access to all facilities and provide necessary assistance for the safety and convenience of the Government representative in the performance of his/her official duties.

IV. Additional Requirements

Criminal and Prohibited Activities

False statements (18 U.S.C. § 287), provides that whoever makes or presents any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements, representations, or claims against the United States shall be subject to imprisonment of not more than five years and shall be subject to a fine in the amount provided by 18 USC §287.

False Claims Act (31 U.S.C. § 3729 et seq.), provides that suits under this Act can be brought by the government, or a person on behalf of the government, for false claims under federal assistance programs.

Copeland “Anti-Kickback” Act (18 U.S.C. § 874), prohibits a person or organization engaged in a federally supported project from enticing an employee working on the project from giving up a part of his compensation under an employment contract.

American-Made Equipment and Products

Recipients are encouraged to purchase American-made equipment and products with funding provided under this award.

Increasing Seat Belt Use in the United States

E.O. 13043, amended by E.O. 13652, requires Recipients to encourage employees and contractors to enforce on-the-job seat belt policies and programs when operating company-owned, rented or personally-owned vehicle.

Federal Leadership of Reducing Text Messaging While Driving

E.O. 13513 requires Recipients to encourage employees, sub-awardees, and contractors to adopt and enforce policies that ban text messaging while driving company-owned, rented vehicles or privately owned vehicles when on official Government business or when performing any work for or on behalf of the Federal Government.

Federal Employee Expenses

Federal agencies are barred from accepting funds from a Recipient to pay transportation, travel, or other expenses for any Federal employee unless specifically approved in the terms of the award. Use of award funds (Federal or non-Federal) or the Recipient’s provision of in-kind goods or services, for the purposes of transportation, travel, or any other expenses for any Federal employee may raise appropriation augmentation issues. In addition, NRC policy prohibits the acceptance of gifts, including travel payments for Federal employees, from Recipients or applicants regardless of the source.

Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) Initiative

Pursuant to E.O.s 13230 and 13270, amended by E.O. 13316 and 13385, 13532, 13592, 13555, 13515, and 13621, NRC is strongly committed to broadening the participation of MSIs in its financial assistance program. NRC's goals include achieving full participation of MSIs in order to advance the development of human potential, strengthen the Nation's capacity to provide high-quality education, and increase opportunities for MSIs to participate in and benefit from Federal financial assistance programs. NRC encourages all applicants and recipients to include meaningful participations of MSIs. Institutions eligible to be considered MSIs are listed on the Department of Education website: <http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/edlite-minorityinst.html>

Research Misconduct

Scientific or research misconduct refers to the fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. It does not include honest errors or differences of opinions. The Recipient organization has the primary responsibility to investigate allegations and provide reports to the Federal Government. Funds expended on an activity that is determined to be invalid or unreliable because of scientific misconduct may result in a disallowance of costs for which the institution may be liable for repayment to the awarding agency. The Office of Science and Technology Policy at the White House published in the Federal Register on December 6, 2000, a final policy that addressed research misconduct. The policy was developed by the National Science and Technology Council (65 FR 76260). The NRC requires that any allegation be submitted to the Grants Officer, who will also notify the OIG of such allegation. Generally, the Recipient organization shall investigate the allegation and submit its findings to the Grants Officer. The NRC may accept the Recipient's findings or proceed with its own investigation. The Grants Officer shall inform the Recipient of the NRC's final determination.

Publications, Videos, and Acknowledgment of Sponsorship

Publication of the results or findings of a research project in appropriate professional journals and production of video or other media is encouraged as an important method of recording and reporting scientific information. It is also a constructive means to expand access to federally funded research. The Recipient is required to submit a copy to the NRC and when releasing information related to a funded project include a statement that the project or effort undertaken was or is sponsored by the NRC. The Recipient is also responsible for assuring that every publication of material (including Internet sites and videos) based on or developed under an award, except scientific articles or papers appearing in scientific, technical or professional journals, contains the following disclaimer:

"This [report/video] was prepared by [Recipient name] under award [number] from [name of operating unit], Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The statements, findings, conclusions, and recommendations are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the view of the [name of operating unit] or the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission."
