Subject: Notice of Merger and Name Change

Teledyne e2v US, Inc is in the process of being merged with and into Teledyne Digital Imaging US, Inc as part of an intercompany consolidation. Teledyne e2v US will become a registered fictitious business name of Teledyne Digital Imaging US, Inc. Teledyne Digital Imaging US, Inc is a subsidiary of Teledyne Technologies Incorporated (NYSE: TDY).

It is anticipated that this transaction will close on or about 31 December 2018. Following the merger, the new legal entity name for Teledyne e2v US, Inc and the legal party to all agreements and contracts with your company will be Teledyne e2v US, a business unit of Teledyne Digital Imaging US, Inc. As such, invoices and other legal documents will reflect this new legal entity name going forward. All proposals, quotations, contracts, agreements, and other legal documents will reflect this new legal entity name going forward. Teledyne requests that your company implement this name change in your systems and documentation including payment remittances for any existing contracts and orders between our companies.

Teledyne e2v US, Inc.'s operations will continue at the company's facility at 700 Chestnut Ridge Road, NY 10977, USA. This change does not affect the company's management, personnel, operations, product qualification status, or related manufacturing and quality assurance approvals. Teledyne Digital Imaging US, Inc will be fully responsible for all of Teledyne e2v US, Inc.'s existing contract obligations with your company.

Should you wish to specifically discuss any matter relating to the contents of this notice, please ensure that you contact your Teledyne representative within seven (7) days of this notice, as following this timeframe any required consents will be deemed granted, in the event that consent is contractually required in the contract with you. In all other circumstances please treat this letter as due notice of the changes for the purposes of any current contractual arrangements. Thank you.

Sincerely,
