Morning Chris,

The shielding assessment, categorising the nuclides in accordance with energy bands, is due to be issued mid-June – but we then will need to incorporate this into the SARP in terms of nuclide limits etc, so the end of July is a reasonable assumption!

Kind regards,

Alex

Subject: Best Guess Date

Alex,

Congress recently passed a law which is intended to improve the NRC's timeliness in completing reviews, and I may have to issue you a letter identifying a date for issuing an amended certificate that differs from whatever was written in the original letter accepting the amendment for review. The last time we communicated about your RAI response submittal, you indicated that you would provide the response around the end of July.

Should I assume that you'll provide the RAI response by 7/31? Please confirm or correct by COB Monday (5/20).

Thanks, Chris
