Dear Sir:

I am writing in regards to Three Mile Island. I think that before the power plant was even built, safety measures and a more safe location should have been considered. I feel that it, and all other nuclear power plants should be closed until emergency centers, in time of a crisis, are made available.

Others should not be built until all safety considerations are made. Nuclear power plants are important to Americans, but so are human beings. Think about them and put people first.

Sincerely yours,

Ainda Webster
