THE REED REPORT

Intervenors in Black Fox have submitted a motion to add a safety contention based on, what they call, the 27 safety items listed in the Reed Report. They do not have a copy of the report and thus are likely to ask the Staff to get GE to produce one so they can refine their contention. For this reason, I need to know the answer to the following questions:

1. Does the Staff now have a copy of the Reed Report?
2. Is the report in question relied upon for any licensing action?
3. Has the report been formally designated "proprietary" by the Staff?
4. What has happened with respect to the statement contained on the third page of the February 9, 1978 letter from Hendrie to Dingell saying that we would "request GE to release the Reed Report or at least the list of 27 safety issues..."?

I would also appreciate any other information your Staff has which would bear on the admission of a Reed Report contention.
