Gentlemen:

This refers to my telephone conversations with Mr. T. J. Collopy of the Naval Products staff and Mr. R. J. Gregg of the Recovery Systems staff on May 24, 1979. As a result of these discussions, I have arranged for our staffs to meet in our Silver Spring offices on June 6, 1979, to discuss SNM accounting programs at the two facilities.

The major topic of our meeting will be the accounting program associated with the recovery of Naval Products material at the Recovery Systems facility. During our meeting on June 6, it would be beneficial if your representatives would summarize the following matters:

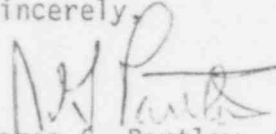

- A description of the current accounting program for SNM transfers between the two facilities.
- An analysis of the contributors to differences in measured values for SNM transactions between the two facilities (shipper-receiver differences).
- Actions taken or planned by management to identify and eliminate sources of shipper-receiver differences.

Sincerely,

James G. Partlow, Chief

Division of Safeguards
