This Message originated from a Non-ArcelorMittal source

Mr. Castle,

Thank you for the prompt follow-up. We will continue processing the RSO change requests associated with both Mid-Vol Coal and Prime Processing.

Further, upon discussions with my manager and a senior license reviewer (Ullrich), we will grant an additional 30 days for gathering the requested information associated with the change of control to ArcelorMittal.

Finally, when possible, please submit the additional information requested in the July 8 letter associated with the renewal of Mid-Vol.

Thank you,

Mr. Pfingsten

To follow up with our recent call, enclosed are the requested RSO information from Kim Reed.

For purposes of responsible individuals as described per our discussion, Michael Day our CEO and I will be those individuals.

Also as we discussed, we are continuing to follow up on requested items and answers to questions in your July 8, 2019 letter to me. However, due to the limited information available to the current management team and support staff (none of the current staff were with the company when ArcelorMittal acquired these properties), I am respectfully requesting additional time to satisfy your requests. We currently have our counsel following up with AM USA and AM Mining groups to get the requested information, but we simply need additional time to fulfil those requests.

Sincerely,

Mike
