Re: Lost Ring Badge

To Whom It May Concern:

On July 19, 1989 Ms. Tantleff was working in the Nuclear Medicine Department at the Newark Beth Israel Medical Center as a per diem technologist. She was scheduled to work the following day, July 20, 1989. Before leaving the department on July 19, 1989, Ms. Tantleff hung her lab coat in the Nuclear Medicine Department's waiting area. Ms. Tantleff's ring badge was in the pocket of her lab coat. The department is locked at night and should have been secure. Unfortunately someone gained access to the department's main hall and waiting area sometime during the night. The next morning Ms. Tantleff discovered that her ring badge and several other personal items were missing from her lab coat. Security was notified.

I worked with Ms. Tantleff from 1981-1988. I have always found her to be a responsible individual. She has always been very conscientious in regards to her radiation exposure and monitoring.

Sincerely yours,

Constance Sorensen
