Dear Mr. Chairman:

I am writing to inform you that Timothy J. Bork, a career Foreign Service Officer with the Agency for International Development, was selected for the FEIAA's 1988 Executive of the Year Award. Mr. Bork, who was honored at our annual conference in March, opened a new A.I.D. mission in South Africa, where he mounted a $25 million program to demonstrate U.S. support for individuals and groups striving to end apartheid. The FEIAA Board found his courage, commitment and effectiveness in this extremely difficult assignment an extraordinary achievement in personal leadership and executive management.

The FEIAA Executive of the Year Award is given annually. One federal and one state or local official may be selected. The purpose of the award is to recognize outstanding achievements in public service. To be eligible, a nominee must be a career executive or have been a career executive currently serving in federal, state, or local government. Individuals must be nominated by the department or agency where he/she works.

The Federal Executive Institute Alumni Association invites nominations from federal, state and local governments in early fall, and nominations are due November 30. The award is presented in the spring at the association's annual conference, the Executive Forum.

We appreciate your participation in the FEIAA's annual award and look forward to receiving your nomination for the 1989 award. Should you have any questions about the award, please call Emilie Heller, Chair, Awards Committee, at 202-653-7751.

Sincerely,
