NOTES: _____

ALABAMA POWER COMPANYNUCLEAR GENERATION SECTION-DIRECTIVE
NGS-D1, EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION NETWORKEffective Date September 17, 1980Approved [Signature]
General Manager Nuclear Generation1.0 Purpose

This directive describes the locations and capabilities of the Emergency Notification Network (ENN) and establishes procedures for its use and testing.

2.0 Scope

This directive applies to all organizations and agencies on the ENN. Implementation of this directive will require that interfacing procedures be developed for each dispatcher station.

3.0 Description

An ENN unit is installed at the following locations:

FNP Technical Support Center (Temporary Location)

APCO Company Control Center

Alabama Department of Radiological Health*

Alabama Department of Civil Defense*

Alabama Department of Public Safety*

Houston County Sheriff Dispatcher

Houston County Office of Civil Defense

Houston County Office of Radiological Health

Early County (GA) Sheriff Dispatcher

*Located in Montgomery

Each ENN unit shall consist of a telephone and speaker. When all phones are cradled, all speakers are muted. If any one of the phones is lifted off the cradle all speakers are activated except the speaker associated with the phone taken off the hook. The phones do not ring. The person lifting the phone need only speak into the phone to be heard by personnel at all the other ENN units. When any other ENN phone is taken off the hook the associated speaker will be muted and normal two way voice communication is established between the two parties. This communication will be transmitted through those speakers not muted, i.e. those with the associated phone cradled.

CAUTION

Upon completion of any transmission from a given station the phone must be returned to the cradle to activate the associated speaker. Do not leave phone unattended off the cradle.

4.0 Net Control

4.1 Initial Notification

In an emergency situation dictating the activation of the ENN, the Technical Support Center at Farley Nuclear Plant shall make initial notification using the following message:

"This is (Name and Title) at Farley Nuclear Plant. Please initiate your radiological notification procedure".

Dispatchers will acknowledge receipt of the above message and proceed in accordance with their procedures. No technical information will be given until the appropriate state and/or local agency(ies) are on the ENN.

4.2 False Notification

In the event of an attempted false notification or other misuse of the ENN, the speaker in the TSC at Farley Nuclear Plant will be activated and FNP personnel will receive the message transmitted. If the message is an attempt to cause a false notification, FNP supervisory personnel will lift the TSC phone and state "Negative, Negative, Negative" followed by "This is (Name and Title) acknowledge negative".

Dispatcher will acknowledge and proceed in accordance with their procedures.

4.3 Subsequent Communications

The ENN may also be used for the clear transmission of technical, radiological and meteorological data and action statements and recommendations based on evaluation of this data.

The Technical Support Center (TSC) at the Farley Nuclear Plant shall be net control for all ENN communications. The TSC shall have priority in transmitting information and shall govern transmission by other organizations.

5.0 Communications Checks

The ENN will be tested on the first Tuesday of each month between 1:00 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. Dothan, Alabama time. The test will be performed as follows:

The shift supervisor will remove the receiver from his phone and repeat, "This is (Name and Title) at Farley Nuclear Plant, this is a communications check, acknowledge". Acknowledgement should follow the order given in paragraph 3.0. The shift supervisor will verify that all ENN units are on the line or note any unit not responding and notify the appropriate organization by separate means.

6.0 System Security

The possibility for misuse and/or abuse of this type system is obvious. Therefore, each organization that has an ENN unit installed in locations not manned on a 24 hour basis shall provide adequate security measures to minimize the probability of misuse and abuse. Descriptions of the security measures established will be provided to Alabama Power Company.
