Greetings:

I have just read of a news release and the information is sketchy, but what it intimates is that the NRC intends to allow the re-smelting of radioactive metals, and recycling them in with uncontaminated metals, to be used in the common marketplace. This is not a wise course of action, as we should not allow any radioactivity to escape into the environment, if we can possibly avoid it.

I would like a copy of this news release, dated 10-27-80, and any other pertinent information, plus the disposition of the matter.

Thank you.
