POOR ORIGINAL

Sir:

Your recent proposal to "exempt from licensing" enrichment plant scrap is further testimony to the disregard your commission has shown for public safety. No matter what the commercial value of recycling enriched uranium or Technetium-99 into consumer products, it remains an unjustifiable assault on human health considering what we now know about the hazardous effects of radiation.

Furthermore, I consider any proposal which lets the nuclear industry off the hook in their search for a safe solution to their waste disposal problem totally unacceptable, and will continue to demand that, lacking such a solution, the industry discontinue the production of all radioactive waste.

Most sincerely,

Donna J. Bunce
