

April 16, 1981

Note to D. Brinkman

LICENSE AMENDMENT

This amendment looks correct, with the following change and addition:

1. Rather than simply saying that the "operability" limits are effective immediately, we should say "These revisions to the Technical Specifications are effective immediately." That would then cover the records retention revisions as well.
2. Before the last paragraph add the following new paragraph:

① By this Amendment of Order, the proposed Technical Specifications pending before the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board are also being revised in accordance with the Board's "Order Granting Joint Motion to Approve Stipulation," dated April 10, 1981
