Rec'd 6-9-81

Dear Sirs:

The Freedom of Information Act enable a person to obtain government documents. As a result, I am requesting any information your agency has on the transportation of spent nuclear fuel. One such document is the "Guidance for developing state and local radiological emergency response to transportation accidents" which was prepared by your agency in conjunction with other federal agencies. Furthermore, there is a student handbook for the "Handling radioactive materials transportation emergencies" training program. These two reports along with any other information your agency may have would enable me to composed an objective report. However, I can not do so without this information. In conclusion, for the sake of adequate reporting the forementioned information is essential.

Sincerely yours,

John J. McCaffrey Jr.
