Gentlemen:

On March 25, 1980, NRC committed to have independent engineering consultants evaluate the concrete construction issues associated with the August 15, 1979 Order confirming suspension of construction at the Marble Hill facility. Subsequently, under an NRC contract with Parameter, Inc., Hamm Engineers, Inc., San Diego, California, was established as the independent engineering consultant.

Enclosed for your information is the consultant's final report titled, "Review of the Evaluation of Concrete at Marble Hill Nuclear Generating Station, Units 1 and 2". This report supports the actions taken by the NRC in its graduated rescission of the August 15, 1979 Order confirming suspension of construction.
