Dear Sir:

I'm writing as a concerned Alaskan who doesn't want unsafe casks of plutonium flying over our state. I am in support of the Markowski ammendment (NUREG 0366) instead of IAEA Standards.

One reason I'm against plutonium being flown over Alaska is because of the many hazards it could cause if the plane were to crash. If the plane crashed the impact would break the casks and could kill many people since it is so very cancerous. I don't think Alaska needs another "Exxon Valdez" incident, look how much wild life it killed. Plutonium is much, much more dangerous. This is why I am so concerned about Plutonium being flown over our state.
