Coast Guard Participation

It has been noted that in the plan, in various locations, the Coast Guard will respond to any radiation accident to protect the shipping and personnel on the Hudson River. We have requested verification of this response capability from the Captain of the Port of New York. We are in receipt of a letter dated April 22, 1982 from Captain B. E. Joyce, United States Coast Guard, Captain of the Port, stating that he does not have the expertise or the protective equipment needed to safely carry out his assigned role.

Table of Contents and Indexing

The overall Radiation Emergency Response Plan is too cumbersome and difficult to work with, and some method of streamlining the plan should be worked out. There is no adequate table of contents or index where people required to work with the plan can readily find the portions that deal with their response.
