Re: NRC Property Rule
ANI Endorsement

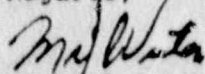

Dear Bob:

As we discussed, there appears to be some differences between the new Property Rule and the ANI endorsement reflecting this rule. The differences appear such that the ANI language and therefore coverage is more restrictive than the rule language.

In particular, the terms "stabilize" and "decontaminate" in the rule each state "may include one or more of the following". The ANI endorsement restricts this language by stating "means one or more of the following".

I would appreciate the NRC opinion on the ANI wording and whether the NRC is concerned with the restrictive language. Thank you for your time and efforts in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you soon.
