Dear Mr. Crespo:

I am responding to your letter of July 12, 1993, to the Chairman, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), concerning your opportunity to qualify for a NRC blanket purchase agreement (BPA).

Mr. Turner

These are the efforts to date to obtain a BPA.

| | | |
|--------------------|--------------------------------------|---|
| September 23, 1992 | Compuslides (Woman Owned) | Extreme interest. Mr. Blunt asked a lot of technical questions. I did some research and replied. It appeared sure that a BPA was eminent. |
| March 24, 1993 | Vito Oporto (Minority Firm) | Again a lot of interest, was told they had to interview other candidates for BPA. |
| April 8, 1993 | Vito Oporto | Further interest, now they asked me to send references. |
| June 30, 1993 | Creative Cooperative (Minority Firm) | Again they were very impressed. Told me they were still in the interview process. |
| July 12, 1993 | My letter to Mr. Selin | |
| August 4, 1993 | Reply by Ms. Norry | |

As they indicated I have had several "job" starts '92-'93. With Compuslides, they had a major economic downturn and I was last hired first fired.

With Vito Oporto it was a situation of starting a joint venture but we had a problem with lack of personal and business compatibility. Out of this relationship grew the idea of evolving into my own enterprise Creative Cooperative.

All the benefits for the NRC were presented and the response was very positive before my letter to Mr. Selin.
