Docket No. 50-313
License No. DPR-51
Revision to Technical Specifications for Steam Line Break Instrumentation and Control System

Gentlemen:

By letter dated May 17, 1982, (1CANØ582Ø3) from Mr. W. Cavanaugh to Mr. J. F. Stolz, AP&L transmitted a Technical Specification Change request relative to the Steam Line Break Instrumentation and Control (SLBIC) System setpoint. This change request allowed a higher SLBIC setpoint in order to reduce the shrinkage of the Reactor Coolant System inventory during certain postulated steam line breaks. This letter transmits a revision to the previously submitted change request.

This revision differs from the original in two respects. First, per request from Mr. Guy Vissing of your staff, the basis for the Technical Specification has been further modified to clarify the reason for the increased setpoint valve. In addition, the affected Technical Specification has been modified slightly to allow the flexibility to select a setpoint between the previously approved setpoint and a maximum value as specified in our previous request.

Since this represents a change to a Technical Specification currently under NRC review, no additional fee is remitted.

Very truly yours,

William Cavanaugh, III
