Dear Senator Riegle:

In reading the Detroit Free Press on June 28, 1990, I came across an article regarding low-level radioactive waste. The article stated that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission announced a policy to permit low-level radioactive waste to be dumped in ordinary landfills and recycled into consumer products.

I don't pretend to be an expert on radiation exposure to humans BUT, this sounds like complete, utter insanity to me!

I cannot contain my utter disbelief and rage at this policy! My hope in writing you today is to make sure that you know that I am adamantly opposed to this policy.

I hope you will respond to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's action and demand not only that the Commission's policy be revoked but that its members resign.

If there is anything I can do to further support you with respect to this issue, please, do not hesitate to contact me at the telephone number/address listed above.
