RE: Safety Light Corp. Docket Nos. 030-5980, 5981, 5982, 8335 and 8444; Decommissioning Funding Submittal.

Gentlemen:

10 CFR § 30.32 calls for existing licensees authorized to possess nuclear byproduct material to submit a decommissioning funding plan or certification by this date. For Safety Light Corp., the decommissioning funding amount specified in the regulation is $750,000.

Safety Light has endeavored to obtain a surety bond to provide the $750,000 financial assurance, but has been thus far unsuccessful. We have approached bonding companies seeking surety bonds in the amount prescribed by the NRC rule, but such companies have been unwilling to extend such a guarantee. Enclosed are two letters from bonding companies (the Lenzi McKendy Co. and Universal Service Agency) declining to provide Safety Light the necessary bond.

As detailed in the recent proceeding before the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, Safety Light Corp. has pending claims against seventeen insurance carriers relating to the decontamination of Safety Light's Bloomsburg site (letter from G. Charnoff to ALB dated Dec. 31, 1989). The coverage under these seventeen policies could amount to many millions of dollars; but, as you know, this coverage is subject to many competing claims and to disputes with the insurers.

Safety Light therefore requests that the NRC consider the coverage and claims under these insurance policies as providing the required level of surety. If you determine that this proposal does not satisfy your decommissioning regulation, Safety Light respectfully requests an exemption pursuant to 10 CFR § 30.11, as further compliance is impossible at this time.

Dear Mr. Miller,

I am in receipt of the information you provided with your request for a $750,000 surety bond to satisfy the decommissioning requirement established by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

I have discussed the information and the requirement with the Bonding Companies that I represent and I must inform you that none of these companies are willing to issue the bond. In light of the fact that the Commission permits licensees to establish Trust funds, escrow accounts, certificates of deposit or deposit of government securities, it has been suggested by the Bonding Companies that you take that route to satisfy the requirement.

I'm sorry I could be of no help in this matter. If you have any questions or require any additional information, please let me know.

Very truly yours,

Gerald P. McKendry

Dear Jack:

To reaffirm our conversation of yesterday, if Safety Light Corporation wishes to obtain a surety bond guaranteeing a $750,000 financial obligation to the U. S. Nuclear Regulating Commission, the principal stockholders of the corporation will have to personally indemnify the surety company for the obligation.

If you wish to pursue the surety bond, please provide me with personal financial statements and a copy of the accountant's cover letter from the corporation's statement dated 12/31/89.

If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to call.
