"Reply to response to NRC inspection report dated Feb. 4, 1994"

Violation A

The root cause for this violation was failure to meet the conditions set down in the 49CFR172.200-203 and 49CFR172.817, in other words I can not remember reading them.

A log containing shipping papers prepared in accordance prescribed regulations will be carried in the driver side door bin of the vehicle transporting exposure devices.

Violation B

Again I must admit to ignorance as the root cause for the violation. I Can not remember reading this specific regulation. I assure you that my attention to detail concerning regulations will not find me lacking in the future. This attention to detail will prevent further recurrence of this and similiar transportation violations.

Respectfully submitted,
