

Mon. April 14,

Dear NRC -

Why are you decentralizing your authority in regards to nuclear power plants? It seems to me that the safety risks will only increase if regulatory control is regionalized. I'm certainly not always pleased with how your agency handles matters of safety but it seems like responsibility will be even more blurred if it is divided.

I disapprove of the shift of regulatory power, living near Rancho Seco, the twin of TMI, and realizing the frequency of problems there. I just would feel more secure having national jurisdiction, as unbiased as possible, in control of that mess too.

Sincerely,
Chris Nelson
