

1 MR. FORTUNA: We have no desire -- we're in a
2 confused state ourselves. We have conflicting information
3 that we may be able to resolve at a later date. And I think
4 we're about done with -- oh, excuse me.

5 I think, Dave, you missed one allegation.

6 MR. FORNEY: This might be an opportune time for 7 me to interject something.

8 I know a lot of times there is some question as to 9 the rationale or are all allegations processed. And in that 10 regard, I'd like to add this point. We don't make any 11 judgment when we get an allegation of the validity. We do
12 go through ^{the} that process I illuminated yesterday.

18 And even having all of this knowledge, we 19 go through exactly the same process. We do not let any of 20 that detract from or give a free opinion as to the validity
21 of any of the allegations.

22 I just thought this would be a good time to 23 interject that.

24 MR. GALANTI: It's been pointed out to me when I
25 was going over or making -- basically covering the initial
