REFERENCE: 1) S. Franks Letter to A. Thadani, dated March 13, 1996
2) B. McIntyre to T. Quay, Letter NTD-NRC-96-4628, dated January 23, 1996,
"Westinghouse Position On In-Vessel Retention Of Molten Core Debris For AP600"

Dear Mr. Crutchfield:

In accordance with Reference 1, Westinghouse is pursuing the ROAAM application to the AP600 certification review of severe accident management. A summary of the nature of this effort, and its relation to the AP600 review was made in Reference 2. In the upcoming March 20-21, 1996 meetings, we will provide substantive and comprehensive presentations, so that this effort is understood in all its implication prior to implementing ROAAM.

We are all looking forward to this meeting. Please contact me if you have any special requests or require further clarification.

Sincerely,

Brian A. McIntyre, Manager
Advanced Plant Safety and Licensing
