Mr. G. R. Forbes, Chief Engineer
Experimental and Avionics
LOCKHEED-GEORGIA COMPANY
Marietta, Georgia 30060

Dear Mr. Forbes:

This is in response to your letter of March 30, 1972.

As requested in your letter, the definition of an Agreement State as contained in 10 CFR Part 150 of AEC Regulations, copy enclosed, means "any State with which the Commission has entered into an effective agreement under subsection 274b. of the Act." Part 150 describes the extent of the regulatory authority which is retained by the AEC pursuant to such an agreement. An agreement was entered into on December 9, 1969, with the State of Georgia which provided for discontinuance by the AEC of certain regulatory authority within the State and assumption by the State of this regulatory authority. The agreement became effective on December 15, 1969, and a copy is enclosed for your information.

When the termination order for AEC License No. R-86 was issued by our Division of Reactor Licensing on August 31, 1971, our regulatory authority over any nuclear activities at Lockheed Georgia's Nuclear Laboratory, Dawsonville, Georgia, ceased except for those activities authorized under AEC byproduct material License No. 10-1425-14 and special nuclear material License No. SNM-260. These licenses were terminated on April 26, 1972, and May 4, 1972, respectively. The regulatory authority over the remaining radioactive contaminants was assumed by the State of Georgia pursuant to five licenses issued by Georgia on August 31, 1971. Thus, the AEC now has no authority over any activities at this facility and any regulatory authority regarding the use or release of the facility is solely within the jurisdiction of the State of Georgia.
