Mr. Quay:

Enclosure 1 provides the TEXAS-V code information that was requested by the NRC in their letter of March 21, 1997. The staff requested Westinghouse provide the following plots vs. time from the TEXAS code: pressure load, impulse load, melt-volume fraction, and void fraction. Note that we do not have the code capability of plotting from the TEXAS code, however, the requested information is provided in TEXAS code output tabular form.

Enclosure 1 contains Westinghouse Proprietary information.

Enclosure 2 is a nonproprietary version of Enclosure 1.

Enclosure 3 contains a summary of this information, closes from the Westinghouse perspective, OITS number 5228. The staff should review the enclosure and inform Westinghouse of the status to be designated in the "NRC Action" column of the OITS.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation copyright notice, proprietary information notice, application for patent, and affidavit are attached.

Enclosure 4 contains Westinghouse proprietary information consisting of trade secrets, commercial information or financial information which we consider privileged or confidential pursuant to 10 CFR 2.790. ### PROPRIETARY INFORMATION NOTICE

Transmitted herewith are proprietary and/or non-proprietary versions of documents furnished to the NRC in connection with requests for generic and/or plant specific review and approval.

In order to conform to the requirements of 10 CFR 2.790 of the Commission's regulations concerning the protection of proprietary information so submitted to the NRC, the information which is proprietary in the proprietary versions is contained within brackets, and where the proprietary information has been deleted in the non-proprietary versions, only the brackets remain (the information that was contained within the brackets in the proprietary versions having been deleted). The justification for claiming the information so designated as proprietary is indicated in both versions by means of lower case letters (a) through (f) contained within parentheses located as a superscript immediately following the brackets enclosing each item of information being identified as proprietary or in the margin opposite such information. These lower case letters refer to the types of information Westinghouse customarily holds in confidence identified in Section (4)(ii)(a) through (4)(ii)(f) of the affidavit accompanying this transmittal pursuant to 10 CFR 2.790(b)(1).
