General Comment

As a NM resident who cherishes the beauty of our land and is already in deep sorrow what has been done by fracking, both in terms of damage to the environment as well as to the health and well being of the local Native people, I firmly oppose the additional abomination that Holtec would bring to our land. New Mexico is not the dumpster of the country. We need to stop generating waste that we don't know how to allocate. We are a poor state. Native people do not have access to good healthcare or clean water. In the event of a spill, the people who would suffer the most are exactly these vulnerable populations.
